"I love being part of the great team at WCM, effective teamwork can lead to improved problem-solving, increased productivity, and a more positive and enjoyable experience overall. Great teamwork is an ongoing process that requires effort and dedication from all team members. By embodying these principles, WCM fosters a positive and productive team dynamic."

BIOGRAPHY

Lynne has an HCPC Registered Occupational Therapist with an impressive background and extensive experience in the field of occupational therapy and neurological rehabilitation. Her work as a case manager with WCM involves managing clients with diverse challenges, such as physical, cognitive, and psychological deficits, in the community setting. Some of her primary responsibilities include assessing clients' needs, devising treatment plans, coordinating with various community services, and implementing community-based rehab programs.

Her specialisation in neurological rehabilitation began in 2003, focusing on clients with acquired brain injuries (ABI) and complex disabilities. Through her clinical expertise in various NHS settings and as a Lead OT in Surrey Community Health NHS Trust, she gained valuable experience in conducting comprehensive assessments related to functional, cognitive, and postural needs. Her work involved developing goal-oriented treatment programs for patients with traumatic brain injuries, strokes, and progressive neurological conditions.

Furthermore, Lynne also worked in a rehabilitation program at the Royal Surrey County Hospital, catering to individuals with brain or central nervous system (CNS) tumours. Her experience with such a diverse range of clients equipped her to address complex cases with skill and proficiency.

Lynne's journey in occupational therapy started in 2001 when she qualified as an occupational therapist. Over the years, she honed her abilities in assessing, planning, and implementing effective rehab interventions for clients with ABI and other complex disabilities. She also has experience in providing training and support to care staff, helping them work effectively with various client groups.

Finally, her role as a Clinical Specialist Occupational Therapist for Somerset Partnership NHS Foundation Trust further strengthened her expertise in working with complex patients with brain injuries in community hospitals and home settings.

Overall, Lynne's rich experience and expertise in neurological rehabilitation and occupational therapy make her an asset in providing comprehensive care and support to clients with complex needs in the community.
