Case Studies:

"Sarah facilitated a client to move from a residential home to a supported living flat and describes it as a really rewarding process, the transition period was challenging but the client was assisted to overcome the hurdles presented and was so pleased to be in a home of their own again."

"Sarah has set up multi-disciplinary teams to enable her clients to move forward with their goal to increase their independence such as improving upper limb movement and function. Through engagement with a range of specialist professionals she has observed her clients participating in different treatment approaches such as robotic technology and advanced prosthetics."

Biography:

Sarah's extensive background as an Occupational Therapist is marked by more than 20 years of experience, demonstrating her proficiency in various aspects of the field. Her current role involves providing personalised case management for adults with brain injuries and complex disabilities, ensuring they receive the necessary care, support, and rehabilitation.

A notable aspect of Sarah's expertise is her specialisation in working with clients who have a dual diagnosis of brain injury and mental health conditions. This dual perspective enables her to address the complexities that arise in such cases. She actively engages with clients both before and after the settlement of personal injury and medical negligence awards. Her broad experience allows her to manage a diverse case load that includes individuals with cerebral palsy, brain injury, and complex orthopaedic injuries.

Her passion for this field is evident, she has worked in hospital, residential and community settings at a senior level including her previous role as Acute Therapy Team Lead for the Cambridgeshire & Peterborough NHS Foundation Trust, where she gained extensive clinical and managerial experience in this area. Her responsibilities in her role as Clinical Lead for Adult Case Management at ACM involve leading the clinical supervision, training and support for ACM case managers in their clinical practice.

Sarah is deeply involved in all facets of case management, and her skills extend to report writing, including immediate needs assessment reports and costed case management reports. Her proficiency in coordinating services and managing multi-disciplinary teams is evident, showcasing her commitment to delivering comprehensive care. She is professionally curious and cares passionately about understanding people, and what makes them unique, in order to provide an individualised approach to support everyone to reach their potential whatever the circumstances.

Her unique blend of clinical skills, knowledge, and experience positions her a highly credible asset in the field of case management. She is known for her strong communication skills, reliability, and resourcefulness, traits that contribute to her effectiveness within multi-disciplinary teams while also allowing her to work autonomously when needed.

Hobbies and Interests

Sarah loves being outdoors walking her 2 dogs riding her horse, and going camping with her family.

Testimonials

"Just want to say a huge thank you for all your time and patience over the years. I know the last year or so has been a little quiet with us not needing as much, but we are all so incredibly grateful for all the help and support you put in place for mum. Also, a personal thank you, you made my life as mums carer a lot smoother with all your help, knowledge and experience."

"Just to let you know that Sarah has been amazing this last couple of weeks, we are very grateful."
