AMELIA SAYS:

"I am a firm believer in the notion of keeping both the body and mind fit. I practice this myself and love the outdoors and running for personal fitness. Professionally I am an attention to details type of person who relishes a challenge."

BIOGRAPHY

Amelia is a HCPC Registered Speech and Language Therapist who delivers a wealth of experience, skills, and a passion for continuous learning and development to her role as a case manager. Her background both in Speech and Language Therapy and in primary education provides a strong foundation for understanding the needs of children and families with speech, language, and communication needs (SLCN).

Her ability and experience in delivering training to professionals within the learning community highlights her commitment to sharing your knowledge and expertise. This not only benefits her immediate colleagues but also contributes to broader professional development.

Furthermore, Amelia's focus on building professional relationships and delivering specific training to families highlights her holistic approach to supporting individuals, addressing the immediate needs of the individuals she works with as well as also fostering a sense of community and empowerment among families.

Professionally Amelia has a strong emphasis on reflection, adaptation, and creating opportunities to put learning into practice, demonstrating a proactive and growth-oriented mindset. This approach is crucial in a field like Case Management, where individualised and evolving strategies are often required.

She has excellent experience in relation to safeguarding, acting as the Designated Safeguarding Officer in previous roles.

In summary, Amelia's unique skill set, extensive experience, and commitment to case management and professional development make her an asset in the field. Her ability to communicate effectively, lead with purpose and kindness, and train and upskill others positions her as a reflective practitioner who contributes meaningfully to the well-being and development of her clients.
